

39 dead, 32 injured in latest Lebanon suicide bomb attack Israeli security HQ destroyed

At least 39 people died when a lorry packed with explosives was driven into Israel's military headquarters in Tyre, southern Lebanon, yesterday. Israeli jets immediately retaliated by bombing artillery and tank positions in the Syrian and Druze-controlled Chouf mountains of central Lebanon.

Grim duty: Soldiers carrying one of the bodies from the bombed Israeli Army headquarters in Tyre.

Thirty nine people were killed yesterday and 32 wounded when a suicide bomb attacked destroyed the Israeli military headquarters in Tyre, Southern Lebanon. An Israeli army spokesman said that 29 of the dead were Israelis and 10 were Arab prisoners in the compound.

'We knew it might happen again'

Dust-covered soldiers, some with blood-stained bandages round their heads, were shouting into a row of field telephones set up in the still-smoking rubble of what had been Israel's security headquarters in the ancient Crusader port of Tyre. After the bombings of the French and American bases in Beirut last month, the scene had a chilling familiarity.

Two RUC officers die in polytechnic blast

Two Royal Ulster Constabulary officers were killed and 33 people were injured yesterday in a Provisional IRA bomb attack at the Ulster Polytechnic on the outskirts of Belfast. Inspector John Martin, aged 28, a married man stationed at Portadown, co Armagh, died instantly when the bomb, believed to have been hidden in a ceiling cavity, exploded without warning in a third floor room where men and women RUC officers were attending a criminology lecture.

US jobless lowest for 20 months

The level of unemployment in the United States is at its lowest for 20 months, the rate falling from 9.3 per cent in September to 8.8 per cent in October. The sharp drop took private economists by surprise.

Duffy attacks union reforms

Mr Terence Duffy, moderate leader of the engineering workers, will warn the Government in a speech tonight that its new proposals for union reform will put the law back 100 years.

Hunger strike

Bishop Abel Muzorewa, the former Prime Minister of Zimbabwe, Rhodesia, who has been on hunger strike since Monday, has been served with an order for his indefinite detention.

Brittan warning

Mr Leon Brittan, the Home Secretary, warned the Greenham Common peace women against using the "blackmail" tactic of physically blockading the base.

Turkish poll

The Turkish military regime made last minute efforts to avoid the possibility of a humiliating result in tomorrow's election for a 400-seat Parliament.

Balancing act

National Westminster is increasing its personal account charges from December 5, but is attempting to sweeten this bitter pill with an alternative minimum balance plan.

Home loan snag

Continued high demand for home loans is posing a threat to the prospect of a cut in the mortgage rate before Christmas.

Dancer's victory

A ballet teacher who hit the policeman who arrested her and dragged her naked along the street won her appeal against conviction for assault.

NHS changes

The National Health Service must be prepared for new ideas and practices, Mr Norman Fowler, Secretary of State for Social Services, told Croydon Conservatives.

UEFA draw

Tottenham Hotspur will play Bayern Munich in the third round of the UEFA Cup. Nottingham Forest have drawn Celtic, Watford meet Sparta Prague.

Letters: On remarriage, from the Dean of Exeter, and others; rate-capping, from Mr J Becham; Cumbrian cancer, from Mr J E Borron.

Table with 4 columns: Home News, Overseas, Arts, Business, Court, Crossword, Events, Law Report, Parliament. Includes sub-tables for Religion, Sale Rooms, Science, Services, Sport, TV & Radio, Theatres, Universities, Weather, Wills.

Jets take immediate revenge

Israel yesterday retaliated by twice bombing Syrian and Druze artillery and tank positions in the central mountains. Kfir jets struck at targets around Bhamdoun, Sofar and Mansourieh in the Aley Mountains, while F4 Phantoms circled to cover. The bombers could be seen diving over the mountains by those at Beirut Airport, where US Marines held a memorial service yesterday for 230 of their comrades killed two weeks ago.

AA warning of Severn Bridge delay

Friday night drivers using the Severn Bridge, which links the M4 into south Wales, have been warned by the Automobile Association: "Take a couple of blankets and a flask of hot soup - There could be huge traffic jams".

Lords set to go on television

Senior members of the House of Lords expect their proceedings to be televised in a year's time. It was revealed yesterday that Lord Soames, the former Conservative Cabinet minister, will propose letting in the television cameras in a Lords debate on December 8, and that he will get the backing of Lord Whitelaw, Leader of the Lords. The idea is expected to win approval and will then get a detailed examination by the Lords' select committee on sound broadcasting.

US sends envoy to mend fences

A senior American official is to fly to London on Sunday for hastily arranged talks with Mrs Margaret Thatcher and other British leaders in an attempt to repair the strains in the Western alliance caused by the US-led invasion of Grenada. The official, Mr Kenneth Dam, the Deputy Secretary of State, will also visit other European capitals, among them Paris, Bonn, Brussels, Rome and The Hague, which have been sharply critical of the American action.

BA offers staff share of profits

Under the plan a baggage handler could expect to receive a £120 bonus if the airline returns a £200m operating profit this year or £240 if the profit increases to the forecast £250m. A pilot earning £16,500 would receive £330 or £660 bonus.

Nilsen given 25-year sentence

Dennis Nilsen, who admitted killing 15 men and dissecting, boiling and burning their bodies, was sentenced to life imprisonment with a recommended minimum term of 25 years at the Central Criminal Court yesterday after a jury found him guilty on six counts of murder and two of attempted murder.

All but one of the verdicts was on a majority of 10 to two. The exception was the attempted murder of Paul Nobbs, a student, in 1981, in which the decision was unanimous.

Nilsen, of 23 Cranley Gardens, Munsell Hill, north London, had denied murdering Kenneth Ockendon in 1979, Martin Duffey in 1980, Billy Sutherland in 1980, Malcolm Barlow in 1981, John Howlett in 1982, and Stephen Sinclair between January 31 and February 3 this year.

He also denied attempting to murder Douglas Stewart in November, 1980, and Mr Nobbs.

The Attorney-General's office confirmed last night that copies of background articles on the case in several national newspapers, excluding The Times, were being examined to see if they constituted a contempt of court.

Nilsen's mother, Mrs Betty Scott, said last night at her home in Strichen, Aberdeen-shire: "It is the worst possible verdict. I did think they would give him the benefit of the doubt. I still still think he is innocent of murder. I dread to think what he is thinking now. I will never abandon him."

Lonely murderers, page 3 Psychiatry on trial, page 8

Why Do You Have A Poor Memory? Advertisement for a memory improvement book.

Advertisement for a memory improvement book, featuring a portrait of a man and text about the benefits of the book.

THE ARTS

Television

Art for heart's sake

Adolescents frequently give such pain that it is quite easy to forget that they inhabit an age band where it is possibly felt most keenly.

Teenage love: Tanveer Ghani as Fariz, Linda Slater as Kim

Good At Art, on BBC 2 last night, was the first of six plays adapted from his short stories and it occupied its well-judged 35 minutes most satisfyingly even though its denouement of disillusion was discernible early on.

Fariz is a talented Pakistani boy doing A-level art, and enduring the slings and arrows of paler classmates who lack his seriousness as well as his talent, under the guidance of Mr Coles who is about to retire and it turns out, expires.

Kim, hoping that his canvas will convey the passion his heart cannot speak. The portrait is a success, especially with Salim, who congratulates him on capturing Kim's "half old lady, half Lolita" look and takes his admiration to the ultimate by buying it in the school art auction.

Fariz realizes that her previously expressed interest in the East and in curry recipes was not inspired by himself.

And that was that - a little essay on young love, sharply observed, believable, and well-acted by Horace Ove. All the cast did well, particularly Salman Peer as Salim, Tanveer Ghani as Fariz, and Linda Slater as Kim the eyelid. Peter Anson produced and it seems that one Friday slot could be diverting for the next few weeks.

Dennis Hackett

WEEKEND CHOICE

And the Queen Passed By (tomorrow, BBC 1, 4.35pm) is the Queen's equivalent of Stoppani's Rosecrans and Gin-denners are Dead, which imagined what the supporting cast were up to when the kings, queens and princes were hogging centre-stage.

"What is one of the things you don't do when you meet the Queen?" asks the Girl Scout leader. "Burrp," says the wise head on young shoulders.

were off-tours from royal tour film footage. Some of the terror that Jane Austen put into Lady Bertram has infected others in the cast in the first episode of a six-part dramatisation of Mansfield Park (tomorrow, BBC 2, 10.10 pm).

Theatre

Satire without the subtlety

Sister Ignatius Ambassadors

When I saw Christopher Durang's off-Broadway double bill on its home ground last year, the first piece struck me as a feeble revue sketch and the second, fully entitled Sister Mary Ignatius Explains It All For You, as a venomously funny revenge fantasy.

My opinion remains unaltered so far as An Actor's Nightmare is concerned. As you have already surmised, this is the one about the man who finds himself trapped on a stage and gagging his way through a play he has never rehearsed. To twist the knife, the victim is not even an actor (so why call him Walter Pinge?), and he has to cope not with one, but four unknown plays.

Things momentarily pick up when Pinge finds himself confronting an executioner with a most un-dreamlike axe as Bolt's Sir Thomas More. "He'll never give in to the King", chorus his admirers (including Maria Aitken as a cowed mother bombarding the Tower with home-made custards). "I might, I might," Pinge yells; but to no avail.

Maria Aitken and Giles Garnett: rewards for right answers

After the interval, Miss Aitken returns as the serenely satirical Sister Mary Ignatius, clad in full battle dress of Our Lady of the Perpetual Sorrows, to deliver the goods on bell and damnation, supported by a smug seven-year-old pupil, Giles Garnett, who is rewarded with sweets for getting the right answers.

She begins with a quick guide to the universe and goes on to nail down most human activities as mortal sin, and makes it clear that there are still plenty of unbaptized pre-ecumenical infants slogging it out in Purgatory.

off-Broadway equivalent seems to have shed its teeth in the transfer. The subject may be international, but the effect of anglicizing the text is to make the satire sound terribly obvious. I prefer Miss Aitken's performance to that of the sharp-featured American predecessor.

She is briefly thrown off her stride when a group of her old pupils invade the platform with a subversive Christian pageant, followed by revengeful confessions of homosexuality, abortions, and alcoholic wife-beating.

Mr Durang had a Roman Catholic upbringing, and without question he has written this piece from the gut. But just as Mary O'Malley's Once a Catholic fell flat in New York, so this

Dial M for Murder Vaudeville

"We discovered your husband had been spending large numbers of pound notes all over the place," says Peter Adamson significantly, having made a memorandum first entrance carrying a soft hat and mackintosh and uttering the evening's most unintentionally funny line: "I'm a police officer".

Frederick Knott's plot carries such a pleasant aroma of its date that I am surprised Allan Davis's revival did not keep it in period, instead of leaving it in the temporal and social limbo peculiar to stage provincial rep. A thousand pounds is still thought adequate to buy a hit-man, settling a debt at the grocer's in cash is thought suspicious, yet the little woman uses a battery wireless (would that be the expression?) to keep her company for a lonely evening sticking her tennis player husband's press cuttings in his scrapbook.

Bound until death then do part - in the usual fashion, until he kills her from jealousy and impatience to inherit her money - are Hayley Mills and Simon Ward, who are not only good box office but better cast than big names often are. She wears her lovely outfits like a stylish prisoner and affects the only-just-perceptibly slurred consonants of a lady who has never needed to ask where her next Gordon's and tonic was coming from.

Jan Flinoff wearing suede shoes, a co-respondent moustache, and the look of a clubman who owes 15 weeks' rent in Belsize Park.

For all its absurdity, the murder scene is as much fun as ever, involving (you will remember) Miss Mills entering a darkened room in a nightdress to answer a prearranged phone call with her murderer awaiting his cue.

It is a relief when Mr Adamson, after demonstrating bow X returned the key before he came in, and the key that Y took out of X's pocket and returned to Z's handbag was X's own latchkey, mutters: "I didn't get it straight away". But that is his business, not ours.

Intermittent rewriting (the heroine is now called Margot instead of Sheila, though Tony, I happily note, is still judged fashionable) has had no effect on the worthy original's surely contrived big scenes offset by leisurely exposition in Victorian style; razor-sharp direction would have thrilled audiences instead of just pleasing them. But I think it will do that much.

That was also noticeable in Berg's Chamber Concerto, a work that has often featured in small scale BBC concerts but which last night sounded unusually fresh.

Anthony Masters

Concert

BBCSO/Haitink

Bernard Haitink on Thursday appeared on the stage of the Barbican concert hall for the first time, but that small step was eclipsed by his giant leap, announced earlier, of becoming music director of the Royal Opera in 1983, succeeding Sir Colin Davis, who leaves in 1986.

His very appearance with the BBCSO served to remind us how effortlessly that conviction is achieved in music he knows intimately: in Schubert's C major symphony Haitink makes no fuss about precisely inter-relating the tempi in the first movement, but the hand-driven Allegro emerges naturally out of the opera in Andante (which was a little stolid, perhaps, in this account) and romps exultantly away, still under firm control, in the final acceleration.

Haitink brought to this orchestra something it often lacks: sense of rhythmic unity and coordinated impetus, sustained through the scherzo and finale with unrelenting energy.

The tutti textures tend to be thick, the attack too fuzzy for my taste; but the transcendent strands of wind writing in the slow movement were beautifully clarified. Was it my imagination, or had the removal of all those overhead bulbs in the hall during the summer given an extra brightness to the wind playing?

Nicholas Kenyon

Boris Godunov New Production

in Mussorgsky's original version. Conductor Claudio Abbado, Producer Andrei Tarkovsky, Designer Nicolas Dvigoubsky, Lighting Designer Robert Bryan.

"If only Boris... were always like this." Financial Times. "Abbado... conducts with a remarkable blend of firmness and the wildest passion." The Times. "[Tarkovsky]... the magician of the Soviet Screen [has] produced a tremendous new Boris Godunov... One was held spellbound." The Daily Telegraph.

Royal Opera House advertisement with dates: November 4, 7, 10, 15, 19, 23, 25 at 6.30pm. Reservations: 01-240 1066.

Radio Reality politik

Undoubtedly Wives and Daughters the classic serial which ended two Sundays ago, was a hard act to follow, epitomizing as it did a society not so far distant as to be unrecognizable - one indeed which in many of its attitudes and values still lingers on. We may even be inclined to think that if more of it lingered, or if its return could be arranged, the world would be a better place.

Large advertisement for TLS (Times Literary Supplement) with headline: 'We've always had the world's leading authors writing for us...'. Includes a list of authors like Anthony Burgess, D.J. Enright, Lawrence Gowing, Alec Cairncross, and Craig Raine.

Advertisement for the British Heart Foundation with headline: 'EVERY YEAR A NUMBER OF BRITISH CHILDREN DIE FROM HEART DEFECTS. 1100.' Includes a heart graphic and contact information.

SPORTING DIARY

With Watford to Bulgaria

Stepping out of the lift into the huge lobby of the capitalistic, Japanese-sponsored Vitosha Hotel in Sofia...

Such is the esteem for his years as FIFA president, in times before the World Cup became corrupted by money and politics...

BARRY FANTONI

"Great result! We got 498 of their fans. They got 367 of ours."

Silver spooned

Terry Moule, the osteopath and physiotherapist who has righted the injuries of many notable sportsmen...

A rum do

I have just received David Gower's book, co-written with Derek Hodgson and published by Collins, Heroes and Contemporaries.

What a difference a year makes

Richard Owen on Brezhnev, the Kremlin's yesterday man

Moscow As the Soviet leadership assembles today in the Kremlin to mark the anniversary of the Bolshevik revolution...

mainly. The extravagant personality cult with which Russians lived every day now seems distant and faintly ridiculous...

and military interests, and the food programme are all evidence of continuity as well as change.

hedge ill for his future plans, or at least for his ability to see them through.

Roy Strong

Life with the Rev Wenceslas

It is a fact that animals, if one has them, dominate one's life. I never thought the two cats that determine mine...

E. Box, the painter, is a favourite correspondent and she has painted the Lady Torte de Shell's portrait on the lid of a box...

Mary Holland on next week's Thatcher-FitzGerald summit

After the Falklands, the real problem

The Irish government is being unusually coy about next week's meeting between Dr Garret FitzGerald and Mrs Margaret Thatcher...

FitzGerald as seen by the Irish Times cartoonist Martyn Turner a play by politicians in the republic to "do something" for Mr John Hume's Social Democratic and Labour Party...

reflect the very different attitudes of the main particular in Northern Irish policy making, notably those of Dr FitzGerald himself...

The mass killings that put psychiatry on trial

A distinct whiff of hubbub has for the last fortnight hung over the Central Criminal Court Number One where Dennis Nilson, the prim-faced clerk who killed 15 men...

mind as substantially impairs his mental responsibility. The list of rulings is long and not always instructive.

prompt abandonment of the question. Concepts such as intellectual awareness, self-control, moral responsibility, guilt, remorse and self-pity disappear into the psychiatric maelstrom and reappear...

Richard Davy

Looking for someone to blame in Poland

A major political trial in Poland at the moment would antagonize Western opinion, delay the lifting of sanctions and further alienate the Polish intelligentsia.

setting up autonomous self-governing organizations such as unions, printing presses and unofficial "flying universities"...

David Nicholson-Lord

powdering the corpses of his victims and viewing them, with himself, in the mirror. Dr Bowden said Nilson merely glanced at himself once in the mirror while dragging a corpse through his flat...

mob. One of their slogans was: "Don't burn down the party committee building; set up your own committee."

10 PAGES OF NEWS AND VIEWS TO HELP YOU PLAN THE WEEK

12.13 Travel: a Smith-hunt in Sri Lanka; fun on the fat farm; climbing high at 73; Gardening: the thorny problems of roses

THE TIMES Saturday

14,15,16 Values: Christmas cards; Review: Rock and jazz records; Eating Out; Drink; Theatre; Dance; Galleries and Image of the Week

17,19,20 Films; Music; Opera; Bridge; Chess; Family Life; Out and About; Country Diary; Software; Collecting and The Week Ahead

5-11 NOVEMBER 1983 A WEEKLY GUIDE TO LEISURE, ENTERTAINMENT AND THE ARTS

Why does anyone swim the Channel three times, run the Himalayas or climb Everest alone? "For those who do not believe, no explanation is possible." Ronald Faux catches up with four of the believers

A race of men apart

It is hard work to become a distinguished adventurer these days. With Cape Horn rounded on a wind surfer, the great oceans crossed or attempted in ever smaller, more vulnerable craft, the length of the Himalayas jogged along, the Greenwich meridian orbited across ocean and ice cap, the 19,000 miles from Tierra del Fuego to Alaska covered in one 74-year walk, and mere marathons extending to super-marathons and quadrathons, the dividing line between possible and impossible is under constant review. One ultimate achievement leads to another.

Certainly there is no greater sporting adversary than the wilderness of ocean and mountain range, no greater challenge than sheer distance, where competition is without written rules against the raw force of the elements or exhaustion. It is an arena where an individual may find that the real competition is with himself in conditions that threaten life. The adventurers who enter that arena and survive are the single-minded, the eccentric, the egocentric and the super-performers.

What they achieve has made even the most cautious non-adventurer the "dizzy on a thick carpet" types, draw positive lines around what they are prepared to be impressed by. It is no longer an historic achievement to reach the top of Everest. To have any chance of being classed as impressive, the ascent must be by a new and difficult route, Alpine-style and, of course without help from cylinders of oxygen. The same applies to other expeditions. The experience may satisfy those taking part but will be judged a non-event by the critical record unless it has some unique challenge.

The world has a finite number of adventurous "firsts" to offer which means that new feats tend to be ever more risk-ridden or are old achievements repeated more dramatically in a faster time with less back-up. Throughout, with the ultra-adventurers, there is an unrelenting attempt to drive the boundary beyond what a normal expedition or individual would be satisfied with.

Dr Glin Bennett, a consultant psychiatrist and psychotherapist, analyzed survival at the extremes in his book Beyond Endurance. He found that most people embarking on an adven-

The question of why mountaineers, yachtsmen and adventurers are prepared to push themselves to the limit and risk their lives is commonly answered in George Mallory's words: "Because it is there." But that response is more complex than it appears. In his day Mallory was one of Dr Bennett's high achievers and in Everest, the definitive record of the conquest of the peak, the author, Walt Unsworth, questions what Mallory really meant. He habitually used the word "there" to indicate anything with a mystical quality that he could not put exactly into words. As the poet Franz Werfel elegantly expressed it: "For those who believe, no explanation is necessary; for those who do not believe, no explanation is possible." Modern adventurers who are less restrained with their feelings make it plain that experiencing a supreme goal is quite as important as the goal itself.

Rare feet: Adrian Crane (left) and his brother Richard keep in peak condition after returning to Britain from their 101-day run along the Himalayas in the spring ture were dominated by it and had their imagination and mental energy seized by it for months or years in advance. They became convinced that the adventure would transform their lives. Sometimes it did but, he warned, there was always a moment when reality shattered the fantasy, when the individual came hard up against danger, fear and stress. He advised would-be adventurers to examine their armchair fantasies and expectations, to see to what extent they could realistically be met. They should also check their personal qualities, skills and the equipment they intended to use to see if they were up to the challenge. And then they should ask for a second opinion.

"The great athletes, adventurers and other high achievers have supreme technical mastery, but technical mastery is merely the launching point for real attainment. These people work on themselves. They recognize that in order to enhance what they can do, they have to discover more about what they are. This essentially inward exploration does not come easily to everyone, but the inward state determines the quality of the outward behaviour," Dr Bennett writes.

He ploughs along, implacable as a tug on record-breaking swims around the Isle of Wight Loch Ness, the Irish Channel and the length of Lake Balaton in Hungary - the longest inland lake in Europe. In 1970 he became the first Briton to swim the Channel two ways and the hat-trick remains his great ambition. It has been done once before by Jon Erikson, a physical training instructor from Chicago. He took 38 hours 27 minutes and vowed he would never swim anywhere ever again when he crawled out of the water.

Kevin Murphy has a slower style and he expects that a triple crossing would take him nearer 60 hours. He believes the next generation of long-distance swimmers will be able to combine the qualities of speed with endurance. He admits that he may find it impossible but he will continue to try. Although he swims about 20 miles in training each week, he sets more store by mental adjustment than physical ability. In the end it was the will to achieve that had to take control.

It is one of the loneliest marathons. You can't talk to anyone. You can't see much. You're alone with your doubts, with your muscles screaming at you to stop. The salt water and the swell make you feel ill and the cold creeps through you. Without a very strong will to go on, you just wouldn't do it," he says.

The support team try to help by cajoling him along but it is hard to judge who a swimmer really has had enough and has reached that critical hypothermic cliff edge. "The usual way is to watch the eyes. When they start rolling you know he's in real trouble. My problem is that I swim with my eyes shut," he added gloomily.

Why go on? "Well, I reckon with all these endurance sports and with people like the Crane brothers and Messner, they go on because that is what gives them a buzz, a sense of achieving a goal. Apart from that anyone who's good at something likes doing it."

Richard and Adrian Crane, brothers from Cockermouth in Cumbria, drew up a list on their kitchen table of the challenges that remained in the world. They had saved up enough to pay for a prolonged expedition, they had the free time but they lacked an objective.

"We put everything into the hat for consideration, even things we knew nothing about. We talked about cycling, rowing, driving, hang-gliding, canoeing, climbing, sailing and walking. It was like a word game, but we were searching for something to catch the imagination and the public eye - something that would demand endurance yet not be so prolonged as cycling around the world, which has been done anyway," Richard Crane says. Eventually they linked together the fastest-growing sport, running, with the greatest mountains, the Himalayas, and had their answer - run the entire length of the Himalayas.

The idea was conceived last October and full-scale planning began in January. "It astonishes us that a year ago we had not even thought of the idea," Adrian says. The imagination of the media was harder to excite. No one had heard of the Cranes outside Cockermouth. They had no track record as adventurous athletes. News desks are daily bombarded with pleas for publicity from theoretical explorers. They had never seen the Himalayas let alone suffered the crippling effects of high altitude or "Kathmandu revenge".

But the Cranes went ahead without any sponsorship. They simply arrived in Darjeeling and began running in the belief that the further they got the more publicity they would attract. In turn they hoped that publicity would translate into financial help for the Intermediate Technology Development Group, a charity which helps people in the Third World. In that way, each of the six million specialized over the years in tackling difficult mountaineering routes alone. He was the first British climber to solo the 10,000ft high North Wall of the Eiger. "It was my greatest dream and just my style; not too technically difficult in good conditions and a real challenge. Unfortunately when I did it the conditions were bad."

In fact he almost fell off rounding a bulge of powdery snow near the second ice field, with thousands of feet of empty space beneath his boot heels and nothing to protect him. He was in a weird frame of mind, he recalls, when he committed himself to the moves. He understood fully all the implications, yet remained quite cool and mentally detached. He could not retreat because he could not have lived with failure, having thought about the climb for so long.

Eric Jones preferred to climb alone. Ropes, belays and the responsibilities of a partner slowed down progress and the less time spent on a climb like the Eigerwand, the safer the climber would be. The Eiger was his last big solo climb and he now concentrates on sky diving. He returned briefly to the cliffs of Llanberis recently for a solo attempt on a notoriously severe route called Cemetery Gates. The rock was greasy but he drifted up, giving a television commentary in English and Welsh as he went.

The highest demonstration of what determination and meticulous planning can achieve lies in the mountaineering record of Reinhold Messner from the Italian Tyrol, indisputably the world's most accomplished climber. He is set to become the first man to climb all 14 of the world's peaks higher than 8,000 metres. He has already topped 10 of them, including two ascents of Everest - the first without supplementary oxygen and the first solo.

His ascent earlier this year to the top of Cho Oyu (8,153 metres) adds to an extraordinary record that has often brought him to the limit of survival. His success relies on intensive training, the ability to move quickly over dangerous, avalanche-prone ground and to remain calm and resourceful in situations where most men would be overwhelmed by panic. To this he must add extraordinarily good luck.

Most mountaineers, marathon runners and long-distance specialists share a recognition of the "Wall", a hand of suffering reached when the body's supply of glycogen in the muscles and liver gives out, usually after about two hours' intense effort. The phase usually fades as the system switches to fats and fatty acids for its energy. This threshold is always a painful lowpoint which an athlete learns to recognize and force himself through. Add the thinness of the Himalayan air and the technical demands of steep, dangerous slopes, and the mental determination required to keep going becomes near super-human.

Messner's success has led him to lengthy self-analysis and he quotes with interest medical studies which suggest that in situations of great danger, with death a fraction away, the body is able to generate something akin to heroin. This subdued pain, took away fear and allowed absolute concentration and awareness. "If a climber gets this often, he has to get it again, like a man who is addicted to drugs," he says.

This same elation and heightened sensation is the reward of penetrating the "Wall". Richard Crane says: "It is a strong exhilaration. Your brain becomes very clear and your thoughts very neat and precise. You feel fantastic and move fast, yet an hour earlier you were begging yourself to stop, praying for a broken leg or anything, that would mean stopping."

So where will it end? With the young acting as an inspiration to the not-so-young, and the not-so-young improving their athletic performance as "Walls" collapse with understanding, could we be approaching the age of the elderly ultra-sportsman or even the first ascent of Everest by a team of doughty pensioners?

Beyond Endurance (Secker and Warburg, £9.50); Everest (Allen Lane, £14.95)

The Saturday section of The Times has won the 1983 Gray Prize for outstanding merit in the advancement of hang-gliding following an article by Ronald Faux published on August 27. Mr Faux is the author of High Ambition, the biography of Reinhold Messner (Gollancz, £9.95).

Numbers game: Kevin Murphy (above) has made 11 single and two double Channel crossings, but the hat-trick still eludes him; Reinhold Messner has scaled 10 of the world's 14 highest peaks

Triumph of the will when scaling the 'Wall'

Sir Roger Bannister, specialist in neurology and the first man to run a four-minute mile, believes that the mental strength to survive and overcome the physical effects of the "Wall" is what sets athletes apart. "Ironically, it is more difficult for men than for women to do, which is why women appear to be better survivors at very long distances than men. Some predict that they will equal men in performance if not beat them. A woman has 12 per cent less cardio-thoracic power than a man, but that becomes less important than efficiency and the capacity to tap some greater supply of energy." Women did not hit the "Wall" in quite the same sense as men, perhaps because men were biologically the hunters and

Advertisement for Highland Park fine old Orkney single malt whisky, featuring a bottle and a man in a kilt. Text includes: 'HIGHLAND PARK fine old Orkney single malt whisky', 'Still matting by hand', 'At Highland Park, we don't believe you can make fine old single malt whisky by new-fangled methods...', 'We don't let progress get in the way of anything'

TRAVEL/1

Edited by Shona Crawford Poole

In a new series, Michael Watkins reflects on those corners of a foreign field, expected and unexpected, which keep a strong link with an adventurous past

Lost along the wandering path to Buddhism and Bob Smith

From the Speaker's Gallery of Sri Lanka's Parliament, the Minister of Finance looked prophecic. He wore an immaculate white ariya, traditional Sinhala costume, and the words he used were traditional too...

Bob Smith, he said, "You should meet Bob Smith. He's the last, the very last of 2,000 European planters... He's on the Waitalawa Estate, not far from Kandy..."

"In '59 a Buddhist priest shot S. W. R. D. Bandaranaike. It was the beginning of the black years - today there is a gradual relaxation... I remember the old Garden Club, it had 25 tennis courts..."

My driver, Gunapala, took me back to the Galle Face Hotel. It is one of the country's wholesome anomalies that a car with a driver is cheaper than self-drive...

I ran into him, by appointment, on this recent trip. He faced me over a desk marginally smaller than Horse Guards Parade...

Four faces of Sri Lanka: Children with their ever-present smiles (top); tea-pickers at work (left); a lone walker among the palms near Bentota on the west coast (centre); and Buddhist monks in Colombo

At 6.30pm I attended the pooja (the Buddhist equivalent of evensong) at the Dala Maligawa, Temple of the Holy Tooth Relic of Buddha...

At Polonnaruwa we explored ruins belonging almost exclusively to the reigns of two kings, Parakrama Bahu I and Nissanka Malla...

Counties circa 1876, from those days of pre-history when we British were still lords of creation. You can tell as much from the Complaints Book...

Gunapala had fallen silent, his face impassive. We passed the last sign of habitation, Farr Rest House, not far from where we finally abandoned the Land-Rover...

NILE CRUISES advertisement with logo and text describing Nile river cruises.

A Very Different Spain advertisement featuring images of Spanish architecture and text about holiday packages.

The spirit was willing but the flesh is weak advertisement for a weekend break at Henlow Grange, including a testimonial and contact info.

WINTER SURVIVAL KIT advertisement for Tunisia, featuring a large illustration of a desert landscape and list of items.

SOUTH AFRICA pelt us advertisement for safari holidays, including contact details for the company.

Kandersteg Bernese Oberland advertisement for a 3-day stay, including details on activities, accommodation, and contact info.

Vertical text on the right edge of the page, including 'Travel notes' and 'WEEKEND BREAKS'.

REVIEW Rock records of the month

Culture shock as Bob Dylan is outshone by the Boy Wonder

At a time when the more monotonous aspects of the disco beat are ubiquitous, and soul music of any hue is in short supply, it is gratifying to reflect on the success of Culture Club...

Culture Club Colour By Numbers (Virgin V2285) Bob Dylan Infidels (CBS 25539) John Hiatt Riding With The King...

feast of classic and danger performances from the sexiest rock star of the 1960s and his friends. Although the tapes date from 1968 their sound quality is excellent...

"License To Kill". There is even a Stones-like vamp called "Neighbourhood Bully" where-in guitarist Mick Taylor provides some much-needed instrumental attack.

The album is again produced by Mark Knopfler of Dire Straits, and it shows. Whatever acidic wit is left in Dylan's pen is usually diluted by the sweet musical safety of the settings.

Paul Haig, the Scottish artist, is probably a Doors fan. Formerly with Josef K. Haig his vocal style echoes Morrison's delivery without matching it for strength or depth.

Colour By Numbers is a vivid collection of danceable, eminently memorable tunes, containing songs that concentrate on emotional quality rather than complex political issues.

Dylan fans will demur but they should be listening instead to the modern maestro John Hiatt, whose Riding With The King is substantial proof that its maker is the best white pop writer in America today.

Unfortunately Haig is too restricted by the trend to rise above it on album, perhaps the result of trying out material on the studio rather than the public.

George has limitations as a vocalist, and the textural assistance of backing singer Helen Terry cannot be underestimated, but the slower tempos suit him admirably.

Not being one of those who feel honour bound to scour through the man's songs for the meaning of life I can only report that Infidels is neither brilliant nor bad.

Uouusally for an American artist Hiatt has incorporated the English vernacular in his writing. There are amusing references to "geezers" and "furry dice", which may add to the misconception that he is a second-rate Costello.

What you get on Infidels (a reference to his critics, no doubt) is the usual amalgamation of self-parody in the indecipherable cartoon vocals of the "Jokerman" and "Man Of Peace", mixed with some straightforward union and capitalist bashing on "Union Sundown".

The charismatic influence of The Doors' outrageous singer, Jim Morrison, who died 13 years ago, refuses to fade away. An Elektra album unearthed from the vaults called Alive. She Cried shows that Doors music is far from over; it is a switching tracks: Boy George (top), changing image, and Bob Dylan, changing faith

Switching tracks: Boy George (top), changing image, and Bob Dylan, changing faith

Sweet dreamer: Dionne Warwick, at her best with ballads

Crawford, particularly on the LP Secret Combination, with which she came to prominence three years ago.

Windsong, last year's effort, suffered slightly by comparison, but Nightline puts Miss Crawford's appealing delivery back where it belongs.

Also worthy of attention are the title song, on which Vandross joins his leading lady for an attractive duet, and a genuinely moving version of "Will You Love Me Tomorrow" wherein Miss Warwick is accompanied by the Shirelles.

Valerie Simpson and Nickolas Ashford were for many years better known as producers and composers, principally for Marvin Gaye and Tammi Terrell, and also for Diana Ross.

The title song, a driving dance tune, benefits from the partnership of Yogi Horton's solid beat with equally impeccable bass lines by Francesco Centano, and from the felicitous intrusions of Ray Charles

Richard Williams

Vulnerable women in need of the perfect soulmate

The divas of soul are a special breed within popular music. For all their power over the audience, these women are peculiarly vulnerable; it has always seemed that their triumphs have depended on their luck in finding a sympathetic and productive partnership with a producer...

Jennifer Holliday Feel My Soul (Geffen 25581) Dionne Warwick How Many Times Can We Say Goodbye (Arista AL8-8194) Randy Crawford Nightline (Warner Bros 92-3876-1)

Coming back: Inez and Charlie Foxcroft in a collection of acknowledged classics

Two of the album's best dance tracks, "Just Let Me Wait" and "My Sweet Delight", rest on the light, emphatic rhythms and blindingly fast horn lines which have propelled EW&F's career; the singer deploys well with the style's demands, but one does not feel convinced that she is really enjoying the music...

Eating Out

Sunkissed and rum soaked in Maida Vale In our continuing series on London's many ethnic restaurants, we look this week at two West Indian venues warming callaloo (green vegetable soup (£1), though a strapping rum cocktail should really be the first hurdle to get under. After these, try the appetizing beef and vegetable stew (with peas, yams, chilli and coconut cream, £4.30) or the roast pork clypsop (rum, ginger and lime juice, £3.75).

potatoes, £1.30) looks dull but is essential to mop up the rum-soaked juices. Whatever you do, leave room for the tremendous banana surprise dessert (£1.50). It won't spoil, or indeed be a surprise to reveal that there's more rum involved, and in the 20 minutes it takes to prepare, have a go at the almost-as-delicious Devil plantain with ice-cream (£1.60).

the presence of this modest, slightly ramshackle but very welcoming West Indian restaurant just up from Finsbury Park. The proprietor, Sam Ramgoolie, is originally from Trinidad, and his menu here reflects the high proportion of inhabitants of Indian extraction there.

Sales and Marketing Appointments are featured every THURSDAY for details please ring 01-278 9161/5

BEEWEES RESTAURANT, 96 Strand Green Road, London N4 (253 4004) Opens 12.30-4pm and 6-11pm Mon-Sat

Another good November red is the 1982 Domaine de Filles Anjou Rouge from Vins Motron (a new and inexpensive addition to Victoria Wine's list at only £2.49)

ANGOSTURA aromatic Put a dash in your cocktails tonight

1000 Labels Printed... Personal Self-Adhesive Labels... 1 AM SELF-ADHESIVE NO DAMPING SIZE 19mm x 40mm

Entertainments

BROMPTON CHORAL SOCIETY FAURE REQUIEM ELGAR For the Fallen HAYDN Paukenmesse

NASH ENSEMBLE Britains' most refreshing combination of chamber musicians

ROYAL FESTIVAL HALL Monday, 28th November at 7.30 p.m. LONDON CHORAL SOCIETY VERDI REQUIEM

LUTHER AND MUSIC Commemorating the 600th anniversary of the birth of Martin Luther ALCESTE CHELSEA OPERA GROUP Wednesday 16 November See QEH panel for details.

THEATRES BURLE OF WIVES... MIR CINDER... NATIONAL THEATRE... THE CHERRY ORCHARD

THEATRES BURLE OF WIVES... MIR CINDER... NATIONAL THEATRE... THE CHERRY ORCHARD

THEATRES BURLE OF WIVES... MIR CINDER... NATIONAL THEATRE... THE CHERRY ORCHARD

THEATRES BURLE OF WIVES... MIR CINDER... NATIONAL THEATRE... THE CHERRY ORCHARD

THEATRES BURLE OF WIVES... MIR CINDER... NATIONAL THEATRE... THE CHERRY ORCHARD

THEATRES BURLE OF WIVES... MIR CINDER... NATIONAL THEATRE... THE CHERRY ORCHARD

THEATRES BURLE OF WIVES... MIR CINDER... NATIONAL THEATRE... THE CHERRY ORCHARD

THEATRES BURLE OF WIVES... MIR CINDER... NATIONAL THEATRE... THE CHERRY ORCHARD

THEATRES BURLE OF WIVES... MIR CINDER... NATIONAL THEATRE... THE CHERRY ORCHARD

THEATRES BURLE OF WIVES... MIR CINDER... NATIONAL THEATRE... THE CHERRY ORCHARD

THEATRES BURLE OF WIVES... MIR CINDER... NATIONAL THEATRE... THE CHERRY ORCHARD

THEATRES BURLE OF WIVES... MIR CINDER... NATIONAL THEATRE... THE CHERRY ORCHARD

GIORGIO G. OI 734 1800 439 PENELOPE KEITH HAY FEVER NOEL COWARD

ROYAL COURT OF THE GLASS WIDOW THE GREAT WIDOW

ROYAL COURT OF THE GLASS WIDOW THE GREAT WIDOW

ROYAL COURT OF THE GLASS WIDOW THE GREAT WIDOW

ROYAL COURT OF THE GLASS WIDOW THE GREAT WIDOW

ROYAL COURT OF THE GLASS WIDOW THE GREAT WIDOW

ROYAL COURT OF THE GLASS WIDOW THE GREAT WIDOW

ROYAL COURT OF THE GLASS WIDOW THE GREAT WIDOW

ROYAL COURT OF THE GLASS WIDOW THE GREAT WIDOW

ROYAL COURT OF THE GLASS WIDOW THE GREAT WIDOW

ROYAL COURT OF THE GLASS WIDOW THE GREAT WIDOW

ROYAL COURT OF THE GLASS WIDOW THE GREAT WIDOW

ROYAL COURT OF THE GLASS WIDOW THE GREAT WIDOW

ROYAL COURT OF THE GLASS WIDOW THE GREAT WIDOW

ROYAL COURT OF THE GLASS WIDOW THE GREAT WIDOW

ROYAL COURT OF THE GLASS WIDOW THE GREAT WIDOW

ROYAL COURT OF THE GLASS WIDOW THE GREAT WIDOW

Family Life A venerable monument comes up fresh

Wisdom of the ages: Visitors inspect a statue of Ramses II (right) and a figure of Osiris

The trouble with great monuments, unlike mountains, is that it is precisely because they are there and accessible that we so often ignore them.

When they come to London they regularly "do" the museums, galleries and palaces and hide us for our relishing the treasures on our doorstep.

Bridge Chess

Warning: These are toys to be handled with care

Catherine wheels, rockets and random rain can provide a magnificent display in the hands of a child, they may also be dangerous.

Immersed in the lessons of a brave new world

There are two ways of stirring the youthful chess imagination. One is to hold junior championship tournaments.

CONCISE CROSSWORD (No 194) Prizes of the New Collins Concise English dictionary will be given for the first two correct solutions opened on Thursday, November 10, 1983.

Out and About A chartered life on the ocean wave

Seventh heaven to a dedicated sailor is the feel of wind on cheek, the sound of waves lapping rhythmically against the hull and the sight of a burgee atop the mast flickering in the breeze.

In my youth I sailed with my fantastical parents on their 36ft Nicholson all over the place, abroad and in home waters.

One great advantage of the Fishers is the wheelhouse. In rough weather you can steer the boat safe and snug in the enclosed wheelhouse.

We picked up the boat on Friday afternoon from the Hamble, near Southampton. My crew and I prepared to leave early next morning to catch the tide in the Needles.

There were also the American grandmaster Frank Marshall, whose style seemed to go even further back to the days of the Romantic school.

Curiously enough, Victor Burger is the only survivor of the event and he has provided much material for a new book, London 1927, British Empire Club Tournament by Raymond Keene.

My first chartered boat had no radio at all, the second no life-raft. I have been told of sails being so old that they tore, of the log - which is essential for navigation - being completely inefficient.

Mary Wilson

also on page 30

THE WEEK AHEAD

Today

MARTIN LUTHER: The 500th anniversary of his birth is marked by three programmes this week...

Tomorrow

LONDON TO BRIGHTON RUN: see Outings, page 18. OPERA ON FILM: Season of Sunday screenings...

part, including the spearhead of the English attack, Harold Llewellyn...

Monday

OLD MASTER PRINTS: Many people are ready to spend £50 on a print by a good contemporary printmaker...

Tuesday

INTERNATIONAL TENNIS: The Benson and Hedges Championships have attracted a high class field...

SLEEPING POLICEMEN: Foco Novo have been touring this play by Howard Brenton and Cumberbatch...

Wednesday

DAVID COX: The bicentenary of the artist's birth is celebrated with the first major show for many years...

Trunk call: Geoffrey Hinchings returns as the 'Dame', Lady Dodo, in Poppy, the hit musical by Peter Nichols and Minty Norman, previewing at the Adelphi Theatre, London WC2, from Wednesday exhibition explains its use in the eighteenth century, with materials for making pigments on show...

JAPAN IN TRANSITION: There is little art in this country illustrating the important period when Japan was finally forced to face a strong external challenge...

THE ARTIST'S LONDON: Not merely topographical, nor a series of personal looks at London life over eight decades...

AMERICAN STILL PHOTOGRAPHER and documentary film-maker runs at the ICA Cinematheque until Nov 20...

BLONDEL: new musical by Stephen Oliver and Tim Rice, which reopens the Old Vic...

DON'T TELL LEONARDO: A film about Leonardo da Vinci, the multi-faceted genius of the Italian Renaissance...

CONVERSATIONS WITH WILLARD VAN DYKE: A portrait of the actor and his career...

CHRISTIE'S St. James's Auctioneers. Next week's sales: 8th at 10.30am and 2.30pm Japanese Prints, Paintings, Screens and Illustrated Books...

Software Gentle guide through the maze of incomprehension

Why should The Times review software? Indeed, what is software? You may well ask...

One reaches a point, however, where the flood can no longer be ignored. Home computers represent a technological advance...

Most of us will want the donkey work to be carried out by someone else. By buying a ready-made program... users buy their software on cassettes...

Their cost bears little relation to their power. That £150 grey case nestling underneath the television...

The cassette is a slow and somewhat inaccurate method of transferring programs into a computer...

Perhaps most important of all, the language of the computer is the new language. The syntax of the chip era may seem opaque...

Software should be the guide through that maze of incomprehension, which is why we shall review it in the same terms one would use to approach a guide for tourists in France or a primer in Mandarin...

Friday

JOSEPH LOSEY: A salute to the film director includes an exhibition of set designs, scripts and papers...

CHRISTMAS LIGHTS: Pat Phoenix, the actress, stands on the balcony of D. H. Evans to turn on the twinkling lights of Christmas trees lining Oxford Street...

DANCING: Bob Fosse's non-stop musical comes from Broadway complete with a Tony award for choreography...

AUF WIEDERSEHEN, PET: A 13-part drama series, their first original work for British television for five years...

Week following

Nov 12: Lord Mayor's Show, City of London. Nov 13: Remembrance Sunday.

Country Diary Variations on the theme of motorway madness

What better on a sunny Monday morning than to be heading out of London. After the summer lull, the autumn commuter traffic is now in full force...

as they are fashionably depicted? Berkshire seems still to have plenty of trees and woods. Some fields are admittedly very big, divided if at all by nasty stumpy little hedgerows...

Some big fields are really quite attractive, particularly if they are undulating. Treeless spaces seem to be objectionable only if they are also flat, as in Norfolk. The same people who deplore the grubbing up of lowland trees and hedges vigorously oppose any plans to plant trees on bare uplands...

Which brings me on to farmers. Are they really as bad as they are portrayed? Well, they are not the good guys they are often made out to be. In the summer of 1976 the banks of the Queen Mother reservoir rose like a giant sandhill from the surrounding desert scrub...

John Young

Collecting Unlooked-for wealth at the back of the wardrobe

Fifties and sixties style going under the hammer: from left, little black wool crepe cocktail dress by Dior; camel wool dress and jacket by Patou; the Greco look, silver lamé stretch trousers, worn with leotard top. Make-up by Tim Huff for Chanel

With the possible exception of the ballgowns, most Balenciagas are now collected, not to be worn, but for the sheer pleasure of possession. Due to the interest shown by museums, prices at Christie's have risen dramatically this year...

for £300, and a gorgeous pink silk and lace ballgown made £680. The latest Christie's sale has an unprecedented 60 lots of stylish and still wearable, fifties' and sixties' fashion...

Madame Bedaux, a tall, statuesque woman, and close friend of the Duke and Duchess of Windsor, dressed exclusively in Balenciaga. The only discreet red ribbon sewn to the left breast of many of these garments stands for the Legion d'honneur awarded her for her help to French industry during the war...

Although there are no vintage 1960s plastic mini-dresses, the once fab gear by Courreges, Ungaro, Paco Rabanne, Emmanuelle Khanh, and of course, Mary Quant, will no doubt be finding its way into future sales. Meanwhile one could do very nicely indeed with the Lanvin, Givenchy, Patou, Worth, Pucci and Dior on offer this month.

Viewing at Christie's, South Kensington, 83 Old Brompton Road, London SW7 (S81 2231). Takes place on Nov 14, 9.15am-7pm, and Nov 15, 9.15-11.30am. The sale begins at 2pm on Nov 15.

Unit trusts

FAMILY MONEY edited by Lorna Bourke

Insurance

Well catered for
Restaurant and cafe owners are being offered both table d'hôte and à la carte insurance cover...

New SAYE share
Employees who belong to a company operated approved Share Option Scheme can invest in a new issue of Save As You Earn...

Gold fraud averted
Trading has resumed in Kruggerands, temporarily brought to a halt when VAT frauds came to light...

High-tech Unicorn
Barclays Unicorn is launching a high tech specialist unit trust, the first of a number of specialist trusts...

Dual cover
The latest home insurance scheme with automatic cover for contents as well as buildings is being launched by Scarborough Building Society...

Hire purchase
Consumers get new protection on credit
Rationalization of the law on credit - some of it is more than a century old...

Traffic hazard
Under the points system, motorists who get up 12 penalty points are automatically disqualified from driving...

Quiet launch
Huah... James Tennant (Commodity management) launched a commodity fund this week with Johnson Mathew and the American brokers E. F. Hutson...

Noble alternative
Investors with a weakness for precious metals now have an alternative to the Kruggerand, it is the noble, one-ounce platinum coin...

Man of property
Twice as many single men buy their own homes as single women, according to a survey conducted by National and Provincial Building Society...

Man of property
Twice as many single men buy their own homes as single women, according to a survey conducted by National and Provincial Building Society...

Man of property
Twice as many single men buy their own homes as single women, according to a survey conducted by National and Provincial Building Society...

Man of property
Twice as many single men buy their own homes as single women, according to a survey conducted by National and Provincial Building Society...

Mortgages

Personal accounts

Home loans with fixed repayments

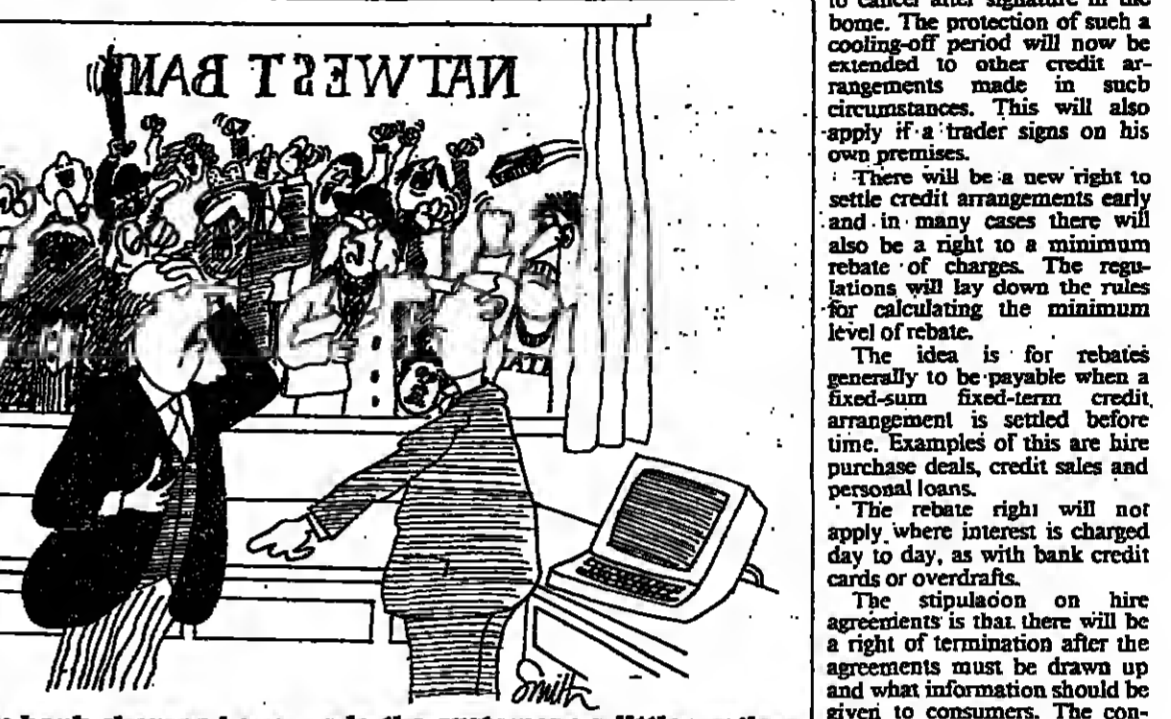

Costly way to save on bank charges

Financial advisers Chase de Vere say £1m available for home loans at 11.5 per cent with no maximum on the amount borrowed...

Customers of NatWest are the first to suffer higher bank charges in what has become an annual hike in the high street banks personal account tariffs...

Five hundred pounds invested in a building society would earn a net return of £42.50 a year in an extra interest account...

op Bank or Williams and Glyn's, where you will incur no bank charges at all so long as you are not overdrawn...

"I fear the new bank charges have made the customers a little restless Frobishaw"
Last December's rise precipitated a flood of angry letters from customers when they realized that charges had been arbitrarily increased...

THE GREATEST INVESTMENT OPPORTUNITY SINCE THE INDUSTRIAL REVOLUTION.
The silicon chip has had a great effect on the 20th century is the Spinning Jenny had on the 18th. Each led to an industrial revolution. And make no doubt about it, we are witnessing an even bigger revolution today...

NEW Guarantee for gilt investors: An improved return - or your money back.
Because the Barlow Clowes Gilt Monitor is based purely on mathematical fact - and experience tells us that we can nearly always produce an improved return for gilt investors...

FAMILY MONEY

Holiday insurance

Why it pays to know when to make a car a write-off

Dr Roger Avery was driving to Bilbao Airport to meet his wife at the start of a fortnight's holiday in Northern Spain when he ran into the devastating floods that swept the region at the end of August.

He had to abandon his car and watch helplessly from the top of a nearby building while it disappeared beneath 25 feet of water. Most of his camping equipment and luggage were in the car. He had only the clothes he stood up in, plus his travel documents.

During the 24 hours it took for the floods to subside, he looked at his holiday insurance - a Travellers Bond personal and vehicle protection policy he had taken out with the RAC.

To his horror, he saw that the policy specifically excluded claims for damage or loss caused by floods. This meant he would not be able to hire a substitute car for the rest of his holiday and recoup the cost from the insurance. So Dr and Mrs Avery went round Northern Spain by bus instead. Then there was the luggage and equipment in the car when it went under.

When he got home he complained to the RAC about the exclusion clause. He said: "I really believed that a policy offered by the RAC would be more than adequate."

Dr Avery has submitted a claim for £350 for damage and loss of the contents of the car which the RAC says the insurer will honour. Meanwhile, it contends that a flood-exclusion clause is standard in insurance. It has no plans to alter the policy.

The British Insurance Association on the other hand says this sort of exclusion is unusual.

Flooding is not that uncommon on the Continent - next year's holiday motorists are clearly advised to check their insurance.

While the RAC is doing the decent thing, Dr Avery ran into even deeper waters when he claimed on his UK comprehensive motor policy for damage to the car.

After the floods subsided, he left the car, an 18-month old

Dr Roger Avery: Floods in Spain were only the start of his problems

Talbot Horizon, in a local garage. The Spaniards said they could get it going so that he could at least drive it back to England. The cost was £400 and it oozed out on the final leg of the journey.

It dawned on him that the car could be much more seriously damaged than he had realized.

He asked the Talbot salesman what he would get for his vehicle second-hand - the answer was "nothing".

A second-hand Talbot Horizon of that age and in pre-flood condition would fetch between £3,000 and £3,500.

That is what the insurer would expect to pay out on a write-off, much more than the £900 Dr Avery was offered. He said: "I can't understand why the engineer sent by the insurer didn't classify it as a write-off."

Neither can the British Insurance Association, whose motor insurance expert says: "It seems incredible that it was not considered a write-off after 24 hours under water. Perhaps the engineer didn't know it had been submerged."

Dr Avery then commissioned his own engineer's report, which suggests that the estimated cost of repairs is £2,000 to £3,000 - at which point it is usually more economical to write the vehicle off. Frizzell asked Dr Avery to resubmit a claim, with his engineer's report and it now says it will treat the car as a write-off.

But why wasn't the car treated as a write-off from the beginning? Frizzell maintains that the customer has the right to insist on repairs. If Dr Avery had just abandoned the vehicle in Spain, it would probably be automatically regarded as a write-off.

He would have got his £3,000 with no complications. The BIA, on the other hand, says he did the right thing in getting it back home.

The most telling comment comes from Dr Avery: "It happened to some little old lady or someone who is trusting and naive, they would have accepted the first offer in good faith. I would have got £900 and a car that would probably be forever going wrong instead of the £3,000-plus that I am asking for now."

Margaret Drummond

Letter

Life offices and interest payments

From the Secretary-General of the Life Offices' Association. Sir, I was interested to learn from Lorna Bourke's article "Life offices criticized for withholding interest" (October 29) that a solicitor had found that insurance companies "invariably" pay no interest on money held by them in the interval between the date of death of an insured person and the time settlement is made.

Members of The Life Offices' Association and Associated Scottish Life Offices adhere to a statement of long-term insurance practice, which sets out current good practice on various aspects of life assurance. The statement requires that payment of claims should be made without avoidable delay once the entitlement of the claimant to receive payment has been established.

A survey conducted in 1980 of the practice of our members showed that the large majority paid interest on claims, although the circumstances in which they did so varied.

If any of your readers has experienced undue delay in the payment of a claim and has been refused interest by the life office, I would be happy to look into the circumstances if they would care to write to me.

Yours faithfully, T H M OPPE, Secretary-General, The Life Offices' Association, Alderman House, Queen Street, London, EC4N 1TP.

Sky's the limit on house cover

A "no sum insured" house insurance scheme offering unlimited cover has been devised by the brokers Clarkson Puckle through the British Reserve Insurance Company. And it compares well with the leader in this field, the Trustee Savings Bank.

Both schemes provide an alternative to "index-linked" schemes avoiding their inconsistencies.

Clarkson Puckle's scheme, like TSB's, does not restrict the cost of replacement or repair to any money figure but pays out the full cost whatever it is.

COUNTY BANK FIRST BUSINESS EXPANSION FUND

(a fund approved by the Inland Revenue under the terms of the Finance Act 1983)

Objectives of the Fund are:

- * To enable UK investors to invest directly in a diversified portfolio of unquoted companies with good growth prospects.
* To allow higher rate taxpayers to benefit from the tax advantages of the Business Expansion Scheme.
* To provide development capital both for established companies and for newer ventures.
* To offer investors the benefit of County Bank's expertise in investing in unquoted companies.

Subscription Period: 3rd November, 1983 to 9th December, 1983*

Minimum investment is £5,000; maximum £40,000.

Total investment in the Fund will be limited to £2.5 million.

For full details of the Fund send in the coupon below for a copy of the Memorandum inviting participations in the Fund.

Investment in unquoted companies can carry higher risk than many other forms of investment, and before investing you should seek advice from your accountant, stockbroker, solicitor, bank manager or other professional adviser.

*Applications must be made on, and on the terms of the application form contained in the Memorandum and must be received by 3pm on Friday, 9th December, 1983. However, if applications for the maximum £2.5 million are received by any earlier date the Fund may be closed at any time thereafter.

To: County Bank Limited, Investment Division, BES Fund, 11 Old Broad Street, London EC2N 1BB. Telephone: 01-438 6000.

Please send me a copy of the Memorandum inviting participations in the County Bank First Business Expansion Fund.

Name: Address: Tel: National Westminster Bank Group

TS/11

Financial market data table with multiple columns for various stock indices, unit trusts, and interest rates. Includes sections for 'Unit Trust Prices - change on the week' and 'Insurance Bonds and Pensions'.

FAMILY MONEY

Unit trusts European bourses booming

Several of the Continental stock markets made further headway last month. Led by the French, German, Dutch, Norwegian and Spanish exchanges all reached peaks for the year during October.

International demand for European stocks continues to outstrip domestic supply. A further boost for the British investors across the Channel has been the gains that several Continental currencies have recently marked-up against sterling.

Reflecting the strong performance by the European bourses this year, five funds specialising in continental shares now appear among the top 20 in the 1983 unit trust league table.

How long this good showing by European markets is maintained may well depend on continued American institutional buying.

This is likely to be influenced by the performance of the dollar against European currencies.

The other area which features at the top of the performance table is Japan. The Tokyo Nikkei Index hit a record on October 12. However, the market there has subsequently fallen back by 3 per cent on political considerations and the likelihood of a general election before the end of the year.

Outside this Top 10, the important events last month were in Hongkong and the gold cent. The two trusts investing in the colony, run by Britannia and Garmore, did not match this gain, but both scored offer price increases of more than 15 per cent.

Gold, on the other hand, did not see any recovery. The price tumbled some $30 during the month, whilst the FT Gold Mines Index crashed by a fifth in sympathy.

International crisis in the Lebanon and Grenada failed to stem the slide. Some commentators blame the fall on real interest rates proving too great a counter-attraction.

However, the lower oil prices are also working against gold. Cheaper energy prices are a contributor to lower inflation and gold is usually viewed as a classic inflation hedge.

So it may well take a renewed flare-up in the Middle East, affecting oil supplies, to set gold back on the recovery path.

All four of the industry's funds specialising in gold-mining shares suffered sharp falls last month. Investors in Britannia's Gold & General Fund were affected most.

Another market which put up a disappointing performance during October on the back of the fall in gold was Australia. The Australian Metals & Minerals Index fell by a tenth over the last month.

The setback in natural resource stocks saw two funds, Garmore Australian and Lawson Australian & Pacific, more than 13 per cent lower.

Mike Hockings

Stockbrokers

Sloane Ranger treatment for City's slickers

You've bought the Official Sloane Ranger Handbook - now save up for the Official Guide to City Slickers. In between counting the royalties from his best seller and lecturing Channel 4 audiences on style, Mr Peter York has been turning his attention to stockbrokers and finding much wanting.

Mr York doubles as Mr Peter Wallis, serious-minded marketing consultant. As Mr York, student of Sloane, he told us that stockbroking was the ultimate job for Sloane men who, as a million readers know, are not noted for their brains.

So clearly he was well versed in his subject when, as Mr Wallis, he was asked to find out why stockbrokers have such a bad image. Capel-Cure Myers, which commissioned the project, was so dismayed by the results that it decided to advertise on television - the first time a British stockbroking firm has done so.

Capel-Cure is described by Mr York in his best-selling handbook as one of the top three Sloane firms.

People were asked who they thought could give them the best investment advice. Forty-five per cent named their bank manager, only 1 per cent thought of a stockbroker. The same number would turn to friends or relatives.

Solicitors and accountants were twice as popular as stockbrokers, who only scraped past insurance brokers.

The enthusiasm for banks is an amazing tribute to the powers of advertising. I am now tempted to believe my cat really does prefer Whiskas. The fact of the matter is that bank managers do not give specific investment advice beyond suggesting a look at unit trusts or dissuading a customer from putting the lot into pork bellies.

You can purchase shares through the bank - the survey showed that 45 per cent of private share purchases were done that way (only 35 per cent went direct to a stockbroker). But the decision is taken not by the bank manager, but by the stockbroker with whom the manager is dealing.

York: causing dismay at Capel-Cure Myers

Stockbrokers cut no ice with working women. Only one per cent of women who were not housewives said they would go to a broker for investment advice.

What's wrong with stockbrokers? Mr Fred Carr of Capel-Cure's private client department says: "At one end of the scale there's the image of a chap who is too thick to make it in the army. At the other there's the feeling we are too clever by half."

"We clearly don't have a professional image - solicitors come after bank managers in the survey even though they simply pass on a client to an expert for financial advice. I'm sure people don't know that stockbrokers have to take exams nowadays. I think the Stock Exchange should be very concerned about the sort of image we have."

Margaret Drummond

The Westminster Commodity Fund Unit Trust. Trustee: Cayman International Trust Company Limited. Managers: North Atlantic Trust Company Limited. Sales Agent: Tennant (Cayman) Managers Limited.

Investment How to save with taxman's help. Lancashire and Yorkshire Friendly Society has linked up with fund managers Garmore to produce Superplan, a regular savings scheme offering the tax advantages of a friendly society investment coupled with a stake in Garmore unit trusts.

FAMILY MONEY MARKET. Table with columns for Fund Name, APR, and Telephone. Includes National Savings Bank, National Savings Certificates, National Savings Income Bond, National Savings 2nd Index-linked certificates, and various Money Funds.

Base Lending Rates. Table listing rates for various banks: ABN Bank (9%), Barclays (9%), BCC (9%), Citibank Savings (10.25%), Consolidated Crd (9%), Continental Trust (9%), C. Hoare & Co (9%), Lloyds Bank (9%), Midland Bank (9%), Nat Westminster (9%), TSB (9%), Williams & Glyn's (9%).

Open up your investment horizons - TAX FREE! Just think how much faster your savings would grow if you could direct them to the dynamic growth areas of the world, like Japan and America.

MONEY IN "ROLL-UP" FUNDS? FIND OUT ABOUT SAVE & PROSPER'S ATTRACTIVE OPTIONS. Proposed changes in the taxation of holdings in offshore "roll-up" money funds make it important for you to consider what action to take, and when.

Unit Trusts Important information for anyone investing in Unit Trusts. Unit Trust MoneyMaker is a brand new monthly newsletter created specially to advise both professional and private investors.

ABBNEY'S NEWEST UNIT TRUST EMERGES NEXT WEEK. Look out for the announcement in this newspaper. Image of an orange.

MARKET REPORT by Michael Clark

Mellins takes road back

ACCOUNT DAYS: Dealings began, Oct 31. Dealings end, Nov 11. Contango day, Nov 14. Settlement day, Nov 21.

It looks as though Mellins, the loss-making women's and children's fashion design and marketing group, is on the road to recovery.

Mr Tucker Suleyman, the chairman, reported interim figures yesterday, showing a profit loss of £166,000, against £183,000 last time. Mr Suleyman hopes that the group will be back in the black at the full-year stage.

He has several large contracts, due to be announced soon, to back his claims. But ask him what the true value of Mellins' shares are and he fights shy. He would prefer to see a stable record before committing himself.

Yesterday, the shares closed 2p lower at 70p, after a 7p, compared with a high for the year of 24p soon after Mr Suleyman took control.

The group's broker, Laing & Crutchfield, is due to publish a buy circular on Monday, forecasting pretax profits next year of between £500,000 and £800,000.

All that remains of the old Mellins business is the lingerie side with the group concentrating on children's and leisure-wear clothes. Its big customers include Harrods, Mothercare, Woolworth and Tesco; it is also building up a lucrative export market in the Middle East and the United States.

Next week, the group will announce a £700,000 contract to skirts to the Middle East, and it has just signed a contract to supply jeans to a big brand name. Its factory in Turkey can make one million a year at £6.70p a time. It may be some time before the Mellins share price can settle down. The return of the institutions provided a firm account to the first leg of the account with the market recovering from a nervous start prompted by the overnight setback on Wall Street. The FT index, having been 2.3 down early on, closed 3.6 up at 718.3.

The institutions have been clearly influenced by many brokers' change of heart over inflation and the expected shopping boom at Christmas. Among the leaders, IC&I led the way with an 8p rise to 592p after the group's debut on Wall Street this week and the chairman's optimistic remarks about prospects. Peninsula & Oriental deferred continued to build up a full head of steam awaiting the Monopolies Commission's report on the takeover bid from Trafalgar House which is expected next

Selective support was also seen in TI Group, 3p higher at 147p, Thra EMI 5p to 605p and Beecham 3p to 318p. Renewed US buying was also for another 3p on Eowater at 216p. The market is still looking for a bid from across the water, but dealers feel this latest surge of support might also signal a possible cash raising exercise by the pulp and paper giant. Gilts spent a quiet day showing falls about 25p at the longer end in anticipation of the US treasury supply figures. After last week's surprise fall the market is looking for an increase of between $1 billion to $2 billion. On the foreign exchange the pound closed 20 points down at $1.4370. Unitex continued to lose ground, falling 9p to 201p on reports that about 1.5 million (4 1/2 per cent) of the shares were on offer and unable to find a home.

The industrial conglomerate S. Pearson was a firm market riser falling 11p to 374p amid rumours that the group was planning to demerge the Financial Times. But Mr James Joll, a director, said there was no truth in the rumours. "The shares have been drifting for some time now", he added.

Shares of Britannia Arrow were also a strong market in ex rights form with the old closing 4p higher at 79p, while the new mid-price closed at 4p premium. The £22m cash call was launched when the shares stood at about the 91p level last month.

The broker Wood Mackenzie has turned bearish of American International and has just published a sell recommendation for the shares. The price responded with a fall of 4p to 232p.

RECENT ISSUES table with columns for issue name, price, and yield.

BRITISH FUNDS table with columns for fund name, price, and yield.

COMMONWEALTH AND FOREIGN table with columns for country/fund, price, and yield.

LOCAL AUTHORITIES table with columns for authority, price, and yield.

DOLLAR STOCKS table with columns for stock name, price, and yield.

BANKS AND DISCOUNTS table with columns for bank name, price, and yield.

BREWERS AND DISTILLERS table with columns for company name, price, and yield.

COMMERCIAL AND INDUSTRIAL table with columns for company name, price, and yield.

Table of company shares with columns for company name, price, and yield.

Table of company shares with columns for company name, price, and yield.

Table of company shares with columns for company name, price, and yield.

Table of company shares with columns for company name, price, and yield.

Table of company shares with columns for company name, price, and yield.

Table of company shares with columns for company name, price, and yield.

Table of company shares with columns for company name, price, and yield.

Table of company shares with columns for company name, price, and yield.

Table of company shares with columns for company name, price, and yield.

Table of company shares with columns for company name, price, and yield.

Table of company shares with columns for company name, price, and yield.

Table of company shares with columns for company name, price, and yield.

Table of company shares with columns for company name, price, and yield.

Table of company shares with columns for company name, price, and yield.

Table of company shares with columns for company name, price, and yield.

Table of company shares with columns for company name, price, and yield.

Table of company shares with columns for company name, price, and yield.

Table of company shares with columns for company name, price, and yield.

Table of company shares with columns for company name, price, and yield.

Table of company shares with columns for company name, price, and yield.

Table of company shares with columns for company name, price, and yield.

Table of company shares with columns for company name, price, and yield.

Table of company shares with columns for company name, price, and yield.

Table of company shares with columns for company name, price, and yield.

Table of company shares with columns for company name, price, and yield.

THE TIMES 1000 1982/1983 The World's Top Companies

Table of company shares with columns for company name, price, and yield.

Table of company shares with columns for company name, price, and yield.

Table of company shares with columns for company name, price, and yield.

Table of company shares with columns for company name, price, and yield.

Table of company shares with columns for company name, price, and yield.

Table of company shares with columns for company name, price, and yield.

Table of company shares with columns for company name, price, and yield.

Table of company shares with columns for company name, price, and yield.

Table of company shares with columns for company name, price, and yield.

Table of company shares with columns for company name, price, and yield.

STERLING: Spot and Forward table with columns for currency, rate, and term.

Money Market Rates table with columns for instrument, rate, and term.

Other Markets table with columns for market name, rate, and term.

Dollar Spot Rates table with columns for country, rate, and term.

Dollar Spot Rates table with columns for country, rate, and term.

Dollar Spot Rates table with columns for country, rate, and term.

INVESTMENT TRUSTS table with columns for trust name, price, and yield.

INVESTMENT TRUSTS table with columns for trust name, price, and yield.

Large vertical advertisement for '45 Higher than your Bu Stock' and 'EAS POS LOA'.

COMMODITIES

Table of commodity prices including London Metal Exchange, Copper, Tin, Lead, Zinc, and various oils.

TENNIS

Miss Wade not young enough and Miss Barker not good enough to beat US

Britain's hopes of making the Wightman Cup a kind of a contest suffered another setback yesterday when Anne Hobbs was taken to hospital suffering from a mysterious illness.

Old partners have an easy win

Houston (Reuters) - Jimmy Connors and Chris Lloyd, who have teamed up partners for nine years, had a 6-2, 6-3 first round victory over their compatriots from the United States, Jimmy Brown and Zina Garrison, in the $400,000 ($275,000) women's doubles championship last night.

RUGBY LEAGUE

Top game moves to Sunday

Supporters of Castleford and Hull have had to make a quick readjustment of their plans for the weekend. The John Player Trophy first round tie between the clubs was originally fixed for today to allow for its screening by BBC.

GYMNASTICS

Kinging the changes: Dmitri Belozertchev, aged 16, the youngest world champion in the history of gymnastics, is at Wembley today and tomorrow in an event sponsored by the Daily Mirror.

Advertisement for Hill Samuel Life's Managed Fund, featuring a large '45%' graphic and text about higher returns than building societies.

Investment application form for Hill Samuel Life's Managed Fund, including fields for name, address, and telephone number.

Advertisement for 'FAST POSTAL LOANS' with a large graphic and text describing loan terms and interest rates.

Advertisement for 'United Dominions Trust' offering various financial services and loans.

Omniturf Man has omnifarious talents of which keeping ahead of the game is one

The guy who ain't never smokes no grass no more

Joe Namath, the American football player, was on television being interviewed "Which do you prefer, Joe grass or Astroturf?" "Dunno," Joe said, so the story goes. "Ain't never smoked Astroturf."

Frank and fearless views of the English captain

After last season's debacle England rugby followers will be looking forward with some trepidation to the forthcoming match against the All Blacks and the five nations' championship in the New Years.

Quarless changes sides

Noel Quarless, of Liverpool, who knocked out John L. Gardner on a Frank White is not as bad as he is first feared.

FOOTBALL, RUGBY UNION AND OTHER WEEKEND FIXTURES

Table of weekend fixtures for Football, Rugby Union, and Hockey, listing teams and match times.

RACING: LAST DAY OF FLAT SEASON

Sikorsky to take command in Flat's last major battle

Sikorsky can further consolidate Robert Sangster's position as the leading owner of 1983 by giving John Sutcliffe his first triumph in the William Hill November Handicap at Doncaster this afternoon.

John Dunlop is launching a powerful attack with Forward and Hymettus. Willie Carson will be seeking to contravert his triumphant but controversial season on a high note on Forward.

When the 8-1 ante-post favourite, Harry Hastings, on whom there had been a big gamble, was belittled on today's November Handicap and backers got their money back, it proved to be almost certainly a blessing in disguise.

Harry Hastings retreats

When the 8-1 ante-post favourite, Harry Hastings, on whom there had been a big gamble, was belittled on today's November Handicap and backers got their money back, it proved to be almost certainly a blessing in disguise.

Doncaster

Draw double: 1.45, 2.50, Treble: 1.15, 2.15, 3.50
12.45 ARMISTICE STAKES (2-y-o £1,035; 1m 2f 50yd) (24 runners)

1.15 LONG JOHN SCOTCH WHISKY STAKES (Apprentices: £2,100; 1m 2f 50yd) (10)

1.45 FLANDERS HANDICAP (2-y-o £2,327; 7f) (20)
1.132 BENAZ (B) (Barnet) M Gentry 3-7 ... M Birch 18

Sandown Park

Tote: double 2.20, 3.30, Treble 2.00, 3.0, 4.0
(Television (TV) 1.30, 2.20, 3.30 and 3.0 races)
1.30 LITTLEWORTH CHASE (novices: £2,337; 2m 4f 69yd) (2 runners)

1.0 HASTENBURG CHASE (handicap: £4,950; 3m 5f 18yd) (5)
2.02-1 HALLO DANDY (B) (Shaw) G Richards 9-11-7 ... M Douglas

1.0 HOLFESTER CHASE (handicap: £4,948; 2m) (4)
1.0211 HOLFESTER CHASE (handicap: £4,948; 2m) (4)

1.0 HOLFESTER CHASE (handicap: £4,948; 2m) (4)
1.0211 HOLFESTER CHASE (handicap: £4,948; 2m) (4)

A great leap from Lucyar as he takes Sandown's open ditch on his way to victory (Photograph: Chris Cole)

De Haan can enjoy another Winter afternoon

By Michael Phillips
Racing Correspondent
The newly insulated Courage Cup series will set off to the best possible start at Cheltenham today.

Chepstow

(Television: (BBC1) 1.30, 2.0 and 2.30 races)
1.30 KEN JONES HURDLE (4-y-o; handicap: £2,737; 3m) (9 runners)

2.0 EMBASSY PREMIER CHASE (£2,708; 2m) (11)
2.14-8 LEANER BLUE (C) M Nicholson 0-11-12 ... M Madden

2.30 COURAGE CHASE (handicap: £4,162; 3m) (9)
1.49-1 BROWN CHAMBERLIN (C) F Wrenn 0-11-18 (8) ... M De Haan

3.0 CORINTH HURDLE (Div I; novices: £1,173; 2m) (21)
1.0211 PARDI NICKEL W O Turner 0-11-9 ... W Newton 7

Catterick Bridge

1.15 ST PETERS CHASE (handicap: £296; 2m) (8 runners)
1.14-8 EVEN MELODY (C) N Comp 14-11-10 ... M Cavell

1.45 SKELFIELD HURDLE (selling handicap: £264; 2m) (14)
1.01 MOBLEY P Ashby 0-12-7 ... S Yaxford 7

2.15 DICK BREWITT CHASE (handicap: £2,082; 3m 300yd) (3)
2.00-0 NIGHTLOVE (C) J Denby 0-11-7 ... M Bradley

Doncaster results
1.15 SPOPPY HANDICAP (£1,070; 8)
SPOPPY SALOR B c by Manarath ... Sealdy (group) Holdings Ltd 4-8-0 ... M De Haan

2.00 NOVEMBER CHASE (novices: £2,337; 2m 18y)
HOT MATCH on grey hot Spert ... M Madden 5-11-9 ... M Birch 18

3.00 WATERLOO HURDLE (handicap: £1,877; 2m)
FORSTDALE B g by Fary Gae-Shaw ... M Birch 18

4.00 WATERLOO HURDLE (handicap: £1,877; 2m)
FORSTDALE B g by Fary Gae-Shaw ... M Birch 18

ATHLETICS Squaring up for fighting talk

The Amateur Athletic Association's annual meeting may escape the verbal brawling that has marred its last two conventions but the decision to hold the 103rd AGM today in the Bloomsbury Crest Hotel is likely to be a boiling venue - will not be lost on the principal protagonists in a long standing debate.

Mr Lister was both proposer of the motion, on behalf of his club, and a member of the sub-committee which had been set up to consider the proposal.

The AA's Registration Scheme, however, could present a problem. The AA's Registration Scheme, however, could present a problem.

Small girl runs into a big storm

Victoria (Renter) - A diminutive 12-year-old girl who won the women's section of the Australian marathon, has prompted a fierce medical debate here on how far children should be pushed in competitive sports.

Victoria (Renter) - A diminutive 12-year-old girl who won the women's section of the Australian marathon, has prompted a fierce medical debate here on how far children should be pushed in competitive sports.

CYCLING Amateurs eager to turn pro

Many of Britain's best amateurs are eager to turn professional, according to a survey conducted by the British Cycling Federation.

Many of Britain's best amateurs are eager to turn professional, according to a survey conducted by the British Cycling Federation.

Many of Britain's best amateurs are eager to turn professional, according to a survey conducted by the British Cycling Federation.

RACEHORSE-OWNER ANDREW SIMPSON...
... makes no more than 7 million estimates to take shares in a yearling colt by Proudler...

Law Report November 5 1983

Irrelevant matters not to be considered

Regina v Sheffield Crown Court. Ex parte Mecca Leisure Ltd and Others. Before Lord Justice Watkins and Mr Justice Taylor...

Living on the earnings of prostitution

Regina v Wilson. Where a case turned on section 30(2) of the Sexual Offences Act 1956...

No excuse for costs delay by prosecutor

Peampkin v Frazier. Where a successful litigant to whom costs had been awarded did not commence taxation proceedings until more than a year after judgment...

MEMORIAL SERVICES. A service to the memory of Dr Leslie Cole who has died in the Chelsea Hospital, London, on November 3 at 2.30 pm.

IN MEMORIAM. In loving memory of my dear mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Jane Smith, who passed away on November 1st, 1983.

BIRTHS. Adams - On Nov 3, at Bristol Maternity Hospital, to the wife of Mr. John Adams, a son, James John Adams.

DEATHS. On November 4th, peacefully, at her home, Mrs. Mary Jane Smith, aged 85.

VENTURA HOLIDAYS. 125 Aldershot Road, London EC1. Tel: 01-261 6456 or 01-261 8111.

ANNOUNCEMENTS. REMEMBER. The Book Cross 120th Anniversary Appeal. Monday 11th November.

DECISIONS. TV REVIEW. The programme would like to thank those who have helped us in our search for a suitable presenter.

INDEPENDENT SCHOOLS. Does your school have places available for entry in September, 1984. You can ensure that you start the next scholastic year with full classes.

Win a Crate of Wine... IN THE TIMES & SUNDAY TIMES CHRISTMAS GIFT GUIDE COMPETITION.

Solve the Riddle and Scoop the Prize. Be creative, and you could win a crate of wine. Craftily constructed riddles are the clue to an object closely associated with Christmas.

CLOSING DOWN SALE. Offering up to 60% reduction of all marked prices on all silk, woollen, new, old and antique.

INCOTINENT? STAY DRY. For over 20 years CONTINENTAL have supplied quality products to motorists and motorists.

RESISTA CARPETS AUTUMN SALE NOW ON. Pleasingly grey or red reduced carpet prices.

LUXURY RESIDENCE. Lushly furnished for the elderly in grounds of Cotswold Club.

WEEKEND RADIO FROM FACING PAGE. Saturday's World Service. Sunday's World Service.

EXHIBITIONS. LONDON DUNSTON YOUNG & SONS. Young children every day from 10.30.

EXHIBITIONS. VICTORIA & ALBERT MUSEUM. The Queen's Coronation. 10th Nov to 27th Nov.

PERSONAL COLUMNS. HOLIDAYS AND VILLAS. SKI BLADON LINES. Fourteen top resorts in France, Switzerland, Italy and Austria.

BLADON LINES TRAVEL. 309 BROMPTON ROAD, LONDON SW3 2DY. Tel: (01) 785 2200. BARGAIN SUNSHINE. Unbeatable offer. 1 week in Ibiza from £149.

AUSTRALASIA AND WORLDWIDE. Travel agents for all continents. PILGRIM-AIR LTD. 44 Gilling Street, London W1P. Tel: 01-533 5333.

ITALY. Milan £55 Palermo £110 Bologna £85 Venice £95 Napoli £105 Roma £110. SAN RAFAEL. Superior duplex apt. 2 bed, 2 bath, 2 cars.

HOLIDAYS AND VILLAS. AUTUMN/WINTER CHRISTMAS/NEW YEAR LOW COST FLIGHTS TO Spain, Italy, Greece, Switzerland, Austria, Germany, Portugal, France, The Balkans, America and elsewhere.

ANNOUNCEMENTS. REMEMBER. The Book Cross 120th Anniversary Appeal. Monday 11th November.

INDEPENDENT SCHOOLS. Does your school have places available for entry in September, 1984.

Win a Crate of Wine... IN THE TIMES & SUNDAY TIMES CHRISTMAS GIFT GUIDE COMPETITION.

Solve the Riddle and Scoop the Prize. Be creative, and you could win a crate of wine.

CLOSING DOWN SALE. Offering up to 60% reduction of all marked prices on all silk, woollen, new, old and antique.

INCOTINENT? STAY DRY. For over 20 years CONTINENTAL have supplied quality products to motorists and motorists.

RESISTA CARPETS AUTUMN SALE NOW ON. Pleasingly grey or red reduced carpet prices.

FOR SALE. SPORTY OCELOT 3 1/2. 1972. 2000 cc. 1200 cc. 1972. 2000 cc. 1200 cc. 1972. 2000 cc. 1200 cc.

WANTED. GENEALOGY. Member and associate. Another interesting genealogy book of Clarendon House.

SERVICES. LUXURY HOME. For national coverage, two issues of the magazine are available.

RENTALS. CHELSEA. 10th Avenue, Chelsea. 10th Avenue, Chelsea. 10th Avenue, Chelsea.

ENTERTAINMENTS. CINEMAS. DOON LINDSEY. 10th Avenue, Chelsea. 10th Avenue, Chelsea.

ART GALLERIES. ANTHONY GROSS. 10th Avenue, Chelsea. 10th Avenue, Chelsea.

EXHIBITIONS. LONDON DUNSTON YOUNG & SONS. Young children every day from 10.30.

EXHIBITIONS. VICTORIA & ALBERT MUSEUM. The Queen's Coronation. 10th Nov to 27th Nov.

WEEKEND RADIO FROM FACING PAGE. Saturday's World Service. Sunday's World Service.

EXHIBITIONS. LONDON DUNSTON YOUNG & SONS. Young children every day from 10.30.

EXHIBITIONS. VICTORIA & ALBERT MUSEUM. The Queen's Coronation. 10th Nov to 27th Nov.

EXHIBITIONS. LONDON DUNSTON YOUNG & SONS. Young children every day from 10.30.

MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS. RECORDER 7H GRAND. No. 41268. Monthly rental.

MOTOR CARS. SAAB 900. V. reg. 1 year. 1983. 1200 cc. 1983. 1200 cc. 1983.

YACHTS AND BOATS. 34ft GRAMPON. A real cruising boat very seriously for sale.

AUCTIONS & ANTIQUES. Sell Paintings at Bonhams. Contact Alexander Meddowes.

ENTERTAINMENTS. CINEMAS. DOON LINDSEY. 10th Avenue, Chelsea. 10th Avenue, Chelsea.

ART GALLERIES. ANTHONY GROSS. 10th Avenue, Chelsea. 10th Avenue, Chelsea.

EXHIBITIONS. LONDON DUNSTON YOUNG & SONS. Young children every day from 10.30.

EXHIBITIONS. VICTORIA & ALBERT MUSEUM. The Queen's Coronation. 10th Nov to 27th Nov.

WEEKEND RADIO FROM FACING PAGE. Saturday's World Service. Sunday's World Service.

EXHIBITIONS. LONDON DUNSTON YOUNG & SONS. Young children every day from 10.30.

EXHIBITIONS. VICTORIA & ALBERT MUSEUM. The Queen's Coronation. 10th Nov to 27th Nov.

EXHIBITIONS. LONDON DUNSTON YOUNG & SONS. Young children every day from 10.30.

